BADGER WOOD

A busy end to the term this week but we rhymed our way through it. We enjoyed writing our poems using the new 'Fantastics' method. We learnt a lot about how we can make our writing even better by using adjectives as well as other elements to really bring out the space themes and rhymes! We had a great scientific day on Wednesday, observing an investigation over time. In the morning we had 4 frozen space toys in need of rescuing. After a discussion we placed the 4 toys in different places to see which melted the quickest to get our space figure back. We found the one on the radiator melted the fastest but the one outside still melted even though it was cold. A fab write up as well Badgers, well done! On Friday we put the finishing touches to our poem for the Sea Life Centre competition, so keep your fingers crossed for us! Have a super week off Badgers, relax and enjoy your time. I shall be looking forward to next half term and discovering more about robots and space!

KEEPER WOOD

We've had another busy week in Keeper Wood! We've all written our letters to persuade the major to let the Iron Man stay. We've used some super rhetorical questions! Our debate definitely helped! We're also very excited to watch The Iron Giant film and compare it with the book today. After a very persuasive debate, we managed to come up with some very good reasons about why watching the film would help us with our work. We've also created some super artwork this week based on our two focus artists and this will be showcased after half term. We will be continuing with the Iron Man and writing our own version to then be used in animation which will be very exciting. Have a super holiday!!

FARTHING WOOD

Farthing Wood have managed to finish their whole class story this week and are very proud of the improvements that they have made to their narrative writing this term. Well done everyone. We have also looked at everyone's amazing homework projects this week. We will be putting these up in the space station role-play area next half term, so please feel free to pop in and have a look. Thank you to everyone at home who has helped with these.

A reminder that next term each topic team will need to bring a box, larger than a shoe box, so that they can use it as a stop-motion stage and can make a start on our animations for the film festival.
